NOTES.
Mayor Turner witnessed the game.
The Salt Lake team is a good ball team.
It took just an hour and a quarter to play the game.

The game was a "whooper," and everybody was satisfied.
Quite a number of Salt Lake people came up to see the game.

It is estimated that fully four hundred ladies attended the game.
The Salt Lake boys went home covered with smiles, even if they were defeated.

It was a great run that Horn made in the eighth inning. The crowd fairly roared.
Dr. Joyce umpired the game again yesterday and rendered the usual satisfaction.

The legal fraternity of Ogden were greatly interested in the game. They were out in force.

"What's the matter with Greenwell? He's all right," went up from the crowd a number of times.

The amphitheatre was filled to overflowing. There wasn't a seat empty left in it. A few small boys climbed on top.

"Judge" Horn played again yesterday with the Ogden team. He weighs about 225 pounds, but he gets there just the same.

The street car company did a great business yesterday. Although they had all the cars in operation, it was all it could do to handle the crowd.

In the eighth inning Scott of the Ogden team sent a ball direct into the hands of the second baseman, when they both ran and put another man out, which sent the Ogden to the field.

F. G. Luke, the Twenty-fifth street merchant, came some time ago and he would give a $1000 to anybody to give him of the Ogden team who made a home run. He gave it to Jake Greenwell yesterday.

Memorial Day.
Yesterday dawned bright and clear and when the sun made its appearance over the high Wasatch it told to the people of this Grand valley of ours, that no storm or inclement weather would come as a hindrance to them in paying tribute to the loved ones that now occupy quarters in the cities of the dead. The air was cool and a gentle breeze was blowing from the mountains and across a shield from the hot rays of the sun. In fact a more pleasant or a more suitable day could not have been. The crowds began to assemble on the streets at an early hour, and by 10 o'clock a procession was formed at the intersection of Washington avenue and Twenty-fourth street, and extended for blocks in a line of glittering regalia.

Civic societies turned out in larger numbers than was ever seen before in the streets of Ogden. Sunday school children, carrying beautiful flowers, followed behind them, and to complete the procession were citizens on foot and in carriages.

The grand marshal of the day was Eugene L. Austin, and his aides were Walter B. Wedell and Sol Meyer.

LINE OF MARCH.
On Washington avenue, from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-second street, counted marching on the east side of Washington avenue; east on Twenty-fourth street to Jefferson avenue; north on Jefferson to the city cemetery. Return—South on Jefferson to Twenty-first street; west to Washington avenue; on west side of Washington avenue to Twenty-fifth street and countermarch.

The arrangement of the column was as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.
Department Commander and staff, mounted.
Knox's military band.
Lincoln Division No. 2, K. of P.
Knights of Pythias lodges.
Juvenile Drum corps.
Grand Army of the Republic.
Sons of Veterans.
Patriotic Order Sons of America.
Three hundred Sunday school children.

SECOND DIVISION.
Ogden City band.
Caston Ogden No. 2, P. M.
L. O. O. F. lodge.
Select Knights, A. O. U. W.
Women's Relief Corps.
Daughters of Rebecca.
Pythian Sisters.

Mayor and city council and judges of the various courts in carriages and on foot.

AT THE GRAVEYARD.
When the column reached the city cemetery a great crowd had already gathered there, and graves in almost every portion were strewn with flowers by the hands of relatives and friends. As the procession entered the gate each society proceeded to the graves of some of their departed brethren.

The Grand Army of the Republic, in accordance with their usual custom, held ritualistic services over the silent tombs of the dead heroes who once occupied ranks with them in the defense of the nation and to preserve the grand galaxy of states.

Each civic society went through the same proceedings, after which the procession reformed and marched back to the city. In front of the Masonic block on Washington avenue the procession formed a hollow square in which Rev. J. J. Wesley Hill, in a few brief and well chosen remarks in behalf of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, presented to the public schools of Ogden a number of flags which had been purchased by the members of the order. Mr. Hill said:

President of the Board of Education and Fellow Citizens:
We have paused in the midst of the stirring events of the day to pay in a most fitting manner one tribute, not only to the heroic dead but to American ideas and to American institutions.
We have in solemn procession marched to the silent city of the dead and there expressed our gratitude in tears and laid the flowers of love upon the tombs of the defenders of our country, honor and their nation's flag.

We pause with our grand procession, our banners and our flags, to pay tribute to the corner stone of our Christian civilization, which is the public school—the fortress of American liberty. I represent an organization that was founded upon patriotism, American ideas and breathes the spirit of the American constitution. I have the honor to present to the public schools of this city, from this grand patriotic order, the Patriotic Order Sons of America, the stars and stripes to float above the schools as an emblem of our nation's power. This flag, my fellow citizens, means there shall be no union of church and state. This flag means that the public schools shall strive for dissemination of American ideas and the education of the youthful minds into the duties of American citizenship. We have a flag that has floated from Bunker Hill to Appomattox, a flag beneath which thousands have walked to the field of light and the crimson streams of blood.

We hand over the flag to the trustees of the public schools of this city requesting that they may float at the mast and wave in beauty over the majestic educational palace. This flag is a symbol of equality, liberty and triumph and the best times possible in the future.

It is the flag of victory, of darkness and of sunshine, of the past and of the future. Captain Ransford Smith accepted the flags in behalf of the board of education in a speech of some length and during the course of his remarks he was loudly applauded.

It was past 1 o'clock before the ceremonies in connection with the presentation of the flags was at an end.
The street for a time was so densely packed that the street cars were compelled to stop until the police could clear a way for them to pass. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the trustees of the various societies and a crowd of people to Mount View cemetery, and after decorating the graves of the departed there the program for the day was at an end.

OGDEN.
The street car company had all its cars decorated with flags and bunting.

It is estimated that five thousand people were at the city cemetery at one time yesterday.

The street car company carried more people yesterday than any day since it has been in operation. They gave excellent service and everyone seemed delighted with the accommodations given them.

A Bad Blaze.
An alarm of fire was sent in from box 36 at 10:45 yesterday morning to the fire station. The boys responded promptly but when they arrived on the scene of the conflagration the blaze was considerably under control. It was located in the vicinity of N. C. Erickson, who was recently convicted of adultery. The house was located on Kershaw avenue and was a total loss. The insurance on the structure was $800, which fully indemnifies the owner.

Immediately in front of the destroyed house was a house belonging to Mr. M. P. Erickson, which was ignited and caused a damage of about $1000.

Adjoining the Erickson place was also a house belonging to Lew and George Trassett which became ignited, and before the fire first got under control the entire structure had been completely destroyed, aggregating $1500, insurance, $1500.

Quite a stiff breeze was blowing, and the sparks carried by the wind set a barn belonging to J. O. Stephens on fire. It was soon extinguished, but not until after damage not exceeding $500 was done. This was the first fire since the city has been under the management of the city council.

There was a fire in the city of Salt Lake yesterday, but it was not in the city of Ogden.

The city council will meet tonight.

The entire fire alarm system of the city was burned out by the wires of the electric light company a few days ago, but they are again in operation. This has happened a number of times and is caused only by the carelessness of the latter. Chief Kludsen will be justified in cutting some of the wires, even if it means that these times when life and property are endangered.

A good many wondered why the fire department was not in the procession yesterday. The boys were not invited to turn out, consequently they remained at their posts.

Yesterday being a holiday there was no court news.

Professor Thornburg gave a grand ball in the Hoyle ball last evening.

The police bagged one plain drunk yesterday.

Joseph Helms extinguished a small blaze in the rear of Marks, Goldsmith & Co's. yesterday morning. It was probably started by some incendiary.

County Clerk Ledwith issued a marriage license yesterday to Frank W. Deane of Denver, Colo., and Miss Lulu Wright of Spokane, Wash.

They were immediately married in the clerk's office after procuring the necessary permit by Rev. Shields of the Presbyterian church.

A lively runaway occurred on Washington avenue at 8 o'clock last evening. Result, a dislocated cart.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Lively and General Observance of the Occasion. With Incidents.

The citizens of Provo turned out en masse yesterday to celebrate Memorial Day, and it has never before been observed with such grandeur and effect. The day was prophetic, opening with a bright sunlight, making a beautiful effect upon the drenched leaves and earth.

At 10 o'clock scores of people were swarming about the court-house corner, and the several secret societies began to form in the procession. Marshall John A. Brown and Mary Berry arranged the line of march, the former commanding the citizens, and the latter the old soldiers of the G. A. R. The flower girls, representing the states and territories, with Columbia in the center, made an imposing appearance in the magnificent chariot, which was drawn by four black horses.

At 10:30 the procession moved toward the cemetery in the following order:

Democratic Drum Corps.
G. A. R. in Uniform.
Flower Girls in Chariot.
Band.
P. O. S. of A.
G. O. P.
Provo Fire Department.
Citizens.

There were in the neighborhood of two hundred vehicles in the procession, which made it one of the longest ever seen in the Garden City.

When the grave yard was reached the procession entered while the band played the "Forerunner" funeral march. The members of the G. A. R. formed a circle about the monument erected in honor of J. M. Dusenberry and went through with the customary ceremonies.

Commander Saxe delivered the memorial service and conducted the proceedings. G. M. Jefferys, chaplain of the day, prayer, and Professor H. E. Gies' choir provided the singing. After these ceremonies the flower girls passed among the tombstones and decorated the graves of the soldiers.

At 12:30 the regular march was made. The regular memorial services were held at the tabernacle at 2 o'clock.

The principal business houses were closed yesterday in honor of Memorial day. Frank J. Cannon joined in the memorial procession to the cemetery yesterday forenoon in company with Mayor W. N. Dusenberry.

NEPHI.

TUESDAY, May 31, 1892

INTERESTING SUMMARY OF LATEST OCCURRENCES.

The much talked of baseball game between the Democratic and Republican clubs was played Saturday afternoon before a fair sized audience and resulted in a decisive victory for the former club.

The game passed off smoothly, ending with a score of 4 to 4. The game was a very interesting one, and the crowd was very large.

Several good players from both sides were present, and in all probability the game will be repeated soon. Much credit is due to the umpire for the fairness of his decisions and for the firmness of his stance.

The National Building and Loan association of Salt Lake has established a branch in Nephi. Judging from the character of the men placed in charge here, we feel safe in predicting that the Nephi branch will be a success.

Our city fathers seem determined not to be lulled to sleep by the song of "hard times" as they are called. They are determined to do their duty as they see it, and will not allow the water mains to be neglected.

Work on the trenches extending the water mains a distance of about half a mile has already been started and but for the tardiness of eastern shippers who are to furnish the pipes the work would have been finished by the 1st of June.

While awaiting the arrival of the pipes from the east, a force of men and teams have been employed to grade certain streets which have long since needed repairs and thus the good work goes on.

The city council a resolution was passed instructing the superintendent of water-works to employ none but Nephi residents to labor on the extension of water mains.

There is no political campaign "razzle-dazzle" about that resolution; it is all wool and a yard wide and warranted not to hurt anybody. At most it is a claim to a residence here for the purpose of getting work need not apply.

Hewitt's Musettes played to fair sized audiences in Folsom's opera house Friday and Saturday evening. At most they are though small in numbers is a giant in talent as compared with most of the troops who prey upon the generosity of our theatergoers.

Almost every body is turning to either vocal or instrumental, was greeted with such vociferous and long continued applause that the performers were compelled to re-appear.

The members of the Democratic Drum corps met last evening and completed arrangements for the purchase of instruments and uniforms. At most they are to be $300. Most of the money has already been raised by private subscription, so that by the time the boys get into their new uniforms all bills will be paid, and they can march with a lighter step.

They can march with a lighter step if they had to go down into their pockets and settle accounts. The Democrats are not given to much boasting, but they "get there" just the same.

Sheriff Hendrick and family came over from Eureka Saturday to spend Decoration Day with relatives and friends.

The stores were all closed yesterday and the town took on a holiday appearance. A Sunday school excursion to the canon via the S. P. V. R. will be held tomorrow, and the excursion is expected to be a very successful one.

Our baseball players think they have struck the right chord in dividing the clubs into political lines and the hope thereby to work up a couple of clubs from which to select players can be selected in an emergency.
